

CIRCUS SAINTS & SINNERS

TENT RITUAL

We rise to honor the absent guest,
the once forgotten circus trouper of yesterday.

He needs us now to guide his dimming eyes, his faltering steps, and to do so, repay in a small way, the joy he has always given us.

As God has prospered us, so He has given us memory.

We will remember the old and tired trouper in his failing years.

We will stand faithfully by him.

If this is your determined wish, please say "I will."
